

Moon Dreams

Scott Cooley Records
5939 Blythefield Drive
East Lansing, MI 48823
(517) 333-3151
scott@scottcooley.com
www.scottcooley.com

Studio Album by Scott Cooley, Released on June 21st, 2004 on Scott Cooley Records, Catalog # SCR01

Newly-established independent label Scott Cooley Records is pleased to announce its first music album release, Moon Dreams, by solo artist Scott Cooley. A follow up to the now cult classic Homegrown in 2002, and his self-titled debut Scott Cooley from Cool Breeze Records in 2000, this record will please existing fans of the Scott Cooley sound, once again delivering original acoustic rock songs with great power. It may round up some new appreciators as well, since it delves into the celestial realm with a more bluesy sound than his past efforts.

Scott Cooley hails from the great state of Michigan, and among his influences are famous songwriters from his home state such as Mark Farner of Grand Funk Railroad, Bob Seger and the Silver Bullet Band, and garage rockers Question Mark and the Mysterians, to name a few. His music combines acoustic guitar blues with the raw, amateurish, unrehearsed and naïve quality of garage rock. You might even hear that one of Scott's favorite records is The Dark Side Of The Moon by Pink Floyd on this album.

The self-released, full-length album offers escapism in the form of "space rock" that features warm, emotional vocals which deliver stories of love and getting away from it all that leave you looking at the world with an improved perspective. This far out music mixes real experiences with dreams, and together, they will put you in a dreamy mood that can take you away for awhile. Best listened to with a good set of headphones, the moon, sun and stars play prominent roles in songs delivered with left-right panning that is out of this world.

Strictly an internet release, no touring is planned in support of the new album. Free preview streaming is available on Scott's MySpace page (<http://www.myspace.com/scottcooley>), where the new songs are experiencing numerous plays daily. CDs can be ordered directly from the artist's website (<http://www.scottcooley.com/store>).

For more information, promo requests, or to set up an interview, please contact:

Scott Cooley Records
5939 Blythefield Drive
East Lansing, MI 48823
(517) 333-3151
scott@scottcooley.com
www.scottcooley.com

UPC: 886470420810